No one can have the slightest idea of how greatly the changes that have been made improve the machine until it has been seen. The games are now reproduced with a fidelity to the actual contests that is remarkable. At the opening game Friday afternoon ladles will be admitted free, and it is the intention of the management again this season to have regular "ladies' day" just as at the ball park. All games will begin simultaneously with the actual games, and the doors of the theater will be thrown open half an hour beforehand. After the games of Friday and Saturday have been reproduced at the Grand the machine will transferred to English's, where it wil remain all of next week. After that it wil be returned to the Grand, where it will remain all summer, reproducing every Indianapolis game away from home. Last year this remarkably clever machine, in which electricity plays so prominent a part, kept the baseball people in touch with their club every afternoon. This years its operation will be even more successfu! than hitherto, and it can be safely counted on to play every game just exactly as it is played away from home. Just as the plays are made on the foreign grounds so they will be seen here, and with a loss of only a mement or so. State University Pulverizes De Pauw by a Score of 14 to 0. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 24.-Indiana University played her initial intercollegiate game this afternoon. De Pauw University presented the opposing team, but their opposition was hardly noticeable. They were shut out without a base hit in the nine innings. The bright particular feature of the game was the phenomenal pitching of Dailey for Indiana. He mowed down the batters of the De Pauw as if they were straw men. There was not even the semblance of a safe hit, and the support afforded was almost perfect. The four errors charged to Indiana were not costly and were in the main excusable. The total of seven bases was the meager supply allowed to De Pauw. Pulse for De Pauw pitched a strong game, considering the uphill work he was called to do. The support was discouraging at times, although the Methodists played a fairly good game. Their inability to hit Dailey and the superior all-round work of the LU team tells the story of their dethe I. U. team tells the story of their defeat. Law, the Favorite, at 7 to 2. CINCINNATI, April 24.-A large crowd saw the racing at Newport to-day, the feature of which was the Wiedman Brewto the post for the event, with Gid Law the favorite at 7 to 2. The field ran well bunched the greater part of the distance, but Gid Law had no trouble in the end. John McElroy, one of the starters, threw his rider a few yards from the starting point, but neither boy nor horse were hurt. The attendance was large and track very fast. The winners in order were: Gooding, 12 to 1; Mitchell, 8 to 1; Gid Law, 7 to 2; Pacemaker, 9 to 5; Kallitan, 6 to 5; Irk-

Washington Handicap.

WASHINGTON, April 24 .- The spring meeting of the Washington Jockey Club closed to-day. The attendance was larger than on any day preceding and a good card pleased the crowd. The meeting has been a fair success. While the cards have not been well filled, the sport has been excellent, the average attendance fair, and there has been an entire absence of unpleasant features. The seven days racing have been run off without a complaint from officials or stables. The feature to-day was the Washington handicap, one mile, purse $1,200. Buddha at even money won easily. Arabian made the running, but in the stretch Littlefield brought his mount to the front, winning by six lengths. All events were well contested, the finishes being made in a drive. Winners: Russler, 4 to 1; Glenole, 15 to 1; Miss Lillian, 5 to 2; Buddha, even; Tantris, 11 to 10; The Peer, 1 to 2.

Big Prize Won by Howard S. SAN FRANCISCO, April 24 .- The Spreckels handicap for three-year-olds, valued at $7,500, with a cup worth $1,500 to be awarded Two-base hits-Long, Robinson, Tucker, the winner, was decided at Ingleside to- Free SPECIAL

Sage and Polonius.

Chicago Post. It would appear that there is a slight difference of opinion between Russell Sage and Polonius. Mr. Sage, who is worth $75,-000,000, has just plunged into the riotous extravagance of purchasing a $6.75 spring suit, explaining to a reporter that clothes do not make the man. On the other hand, Polonius told Laertes when he sent him out into the world that the apparel oft proclaims the man, and we fancy that Polonius must have been thinking of Uncle Russell when he spoke. Our recollections of Polonius, as we have seen him from time to time at Hooley's and elsewhere, is that he was not very striking in his dress, but he was always a distinct improvement on Uncle ing Company's stakes. Seven starters went Russell, whose clothes hang about him like an old coat on a scarecrow on a windy day. If Mr. Sage is extravagant enough to buy four suits a year he is compelled to squander $27, and this does not take into account his undergarments and linen.
